HOT TAKES:

- The HEAT has held opponents to under 100 points 12 times this season, going a perfect 12-0 in those contests.
- Miami's bench scored a season-high 73 points on 1/19 vs. SA.
- Nikola Jović has currently made a three-point field goal in 14-straight games, one short of his career long of 15 consecutive games.
- The HEAT are in a current 27-day span (1/30 – 2/25) in which they will play just one home game.

COACH SPO: Erik Spoelstra has recorded 884 career wins (774 regular season & 110 postseason) with the HEAT, the fourth-most by a head coach with a single franchise in NBA history and now just one short from tying Red Auerbach (Celtics) with 885 for the third-most. Next on the list is Jerry Sloan (Jazz) followed by Gregg Popovich (Spurs). Additionally, Spoelstra has coached over 1,300 career regular season games, becoming just the second coach in NBA history to coach 1,300+ games with only one franchise for his entire career, joining only Gregg Popovich (Spurs).

BACK-TO-BACK: Tonight marks the second of a road back-to-back after just playing in Chicago last night. It marks Miami's ninth of 15 back-to-backs this season, which is two more than last season.

HERRO IN DOUBLE-FIGURES: Tyler Herro has currently scored in double figures in a career-high 77 consecutive games dating back to last season, including both the regular season and postseason, the eighth-longest streak in franchise history. Additionally, he has scored in double-figures in 72-straight regular season games, the seventh-longest in franchise history. Below are longest overall double-figure scoring streaks in HEAT history.

ONE OF THREE: Tyler Herro recorded 30 points, 12 assists and eight rebounds on 1/27 vs. ORL, becoming just the third player in franchise history to have at least those totals in a single game. He joins only LeBron James (three times) and Dwyane Wade (11/6/04) to record at least each of those totals in a game.

SECOND HALF: The HEAT scored a franchise-record 82 points in the second half on 1/19 vs. SA, surpassing the previous record of 81 which was set on 2/3/20 vs. PHI. Miami had five different players score in double-figures in the second half alone, including three off the bench. The HEAT shot 66 percent from the field, 70 percent from three-point range and a perfect 6-of-6 from the line, helping Miami outscore the Spurs by 16 in the half.

1,100 3FGM: Duncan Robinson connected on his 1,100th career three-point field goal on 1/13 at LAC, accomplishing the feat in his 385th career game, becoming the fourth-fastest player in NBA history to reach their 1,100th trey. Robinson previously set the NBA all-time records for the fewest games to 900, 800, 700, 600, 500, 400, 300 and 200. Below are the fewest games to 1,100 made threes in NBA history.

FIRST EVER: Bam Adebayo grabbed a season-high 20 rebounds while also dishing out seven assists at TOR on 12/1, becoming the only player in team history to record at least each of those totals in a game. Additionally, it marked as Adebayo's third career 20-rebound game, tying both Alonzo Mourning and Kevin Willis for the third-most in franchise history. Only Rony Seikaly (21 times) and Hassan Whiteside (20 times) have done so on more occasions.

8,000: Bam Adebayo scored his 8,000th career point on 1/1 vs. NOP, becoming just the fourth player in HEAT history to reach the milestone, joining only Dwyane Wade (21,556), Alonzo Mourning (9,459) and Glen Rice (9,248).

OH WHAT A NIGHT: The HEAT recorded a 41-point, 134-93, win vs. LAL on 12/4, marking the largest margin of victory by either team in their 73-game history while also tying Miami's fourth-largest margin of victory against any team. The 134 points was a season-high as Miami dished out a franchise-record 42 assists. A team-tying record 10 different HEAT players each made at least one three-point field goal, finishing with a franchise-record 24 made treys. Additionally, Tyler Herro tied his career-high for points in a single quarter with 21 in the third, outscoring the Lakers by himself (20) while also becoming just the second player in team history to make at least seven three-point field goals in a quarter.

DRAFTED: The HEAT currently has six players on their roster in which they drafted, including Josh Richardson (2015), Bam Adebayo (2017), Tyler Herro (2019), Nikola Jović (2022), Jaime Jaquez Jr. (2023) and Kel'el Ware (2024), marking as the fourth-most drafted players to play in a game during a single-season in team history. Also, Pelle Larsson (2024), who was not drafted by Miami, but was acquired on draft night has also appeared in a game this season as well. Below are currently the most players drafted by Miami to appear in a game during a single-season.

ALL-STAR: Tyler Herro has been named to the 2025 Eastern Conference All-Star Team. It marks his first career selection and the 11th different HEAT player to earn All-Star honors, including the 41st time overall. Miami will now have an NBA All-Star in 19 of the past 21 seasons. Additionally, Jaime Jaquez Jr. was named to the 2025 Rising Stars event. It marks his second consecutive selection after also being selected as a rookie last season. The Rising Stars will be played on Friday, February 14 and the All-Star event will take place on Sunday, February 16, both in San Francisco.

ERIK SPOELSTRA (Portland)Regular Season Coaching Record: 774-551, currently in 17th seasonPostseason Coaching Record: 110-79, 13 postseason appearances

Erik Spoelstra is currently in his 17th season as head coach of the HEAT and his 30th as a member of the organization. He was elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008. Spoelstra has totaled 13 postseason appearances, nine division titles, six conference championships and guided the franchise to a pair of NBA titles. Recognized as one of the game's best coaches, Spoelstra was selected as one of the NBA's 15 Greatest Coaches in NBA History and has earned Coach of the Month honors 10 times, tying the sixth-most in NBA history.

In his previous 16 seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has made his mark on the HEAT record book as the winningest coach in franchise history. Entering this season, he holds team records in wins, winning percentage and games coached. His 13 postseason appearances in his previous 16 seasons tie the second-most over that span in the NBA as Spoelstra has never missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons since becoming head coach as he also holds HEAT postseason records in wins, winning percentage, series won and games coached.

When Spoelstra first took over the head coaching duties in 2008, he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. He then recorded 43 wins in his first season, the most by a first year HEAT coach in team history, while on his way to a postseason berth. Miami became just the second team in NBA history to make the playoffs after winning 15-or-fewer games the previous season. The only other team to do so was the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets, in which HEAT President Pat Riley was a member of.

From 2010-14, Spoelstra took one of the most scrutinized teams and guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, four-straight Conference Championships and four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, becoming just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four-straight Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley. Spoelstra also joined a very elite fraternity when he led the HEAT to a seven-game series win over the San Antonio Spurs in the 2013 NBA Finals. Upon capturing the 2013 NBA Championship he became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season.

Before taking over as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting, a title he held during Miami's 2006 NBA Championship, before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

He has returned to his native Philippines to host clinics and promote education, health and wellness to thousands of at-risk youth through grassroots programs and events. The nine-day program in Manila in the summer of 2011 was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. In the summer of 2012, Coach Spoelstra expanded his reach into other Southeast Asia nations by conducting coaches clinics and other FIT activities in Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues. Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years. In his free time, Spoelstra enjoys spending time with his sons Santiago and Dante and daughter, Ruby, and their dog Rosie.
