Simone Fontecchio ranks third on the Pistons second unit with 6.4 bench points per game this season. He has helped power the second unit to the 7th-most bench points per game in the NBA since Dec. 21 (38.8 per game, 22 games).

FITTING RIGHT IN: After being acquired from the Utah Jazz on Feb. 7, 2024 for Kevin Knox, the rights to Gabriele Procida and a 2024 second-round pick, Fontecchio came out firing in his first game as a Piston, scoring 20 points with a T-career-high nine rebounds, one assist and one steal against the L.A. Clippers (2/10). It was the eighth-most points by a player in their Pistons debut in the past 25 seasons (since 1998-99), and joined Blake Griffin (Feb. 1, 2018) as the only Piston to add at least nine rebounds in their debut as well. Fontecchio attempted 19 field goals in 32 minutes played, including 10 shots in his first 10 minutes, tied with Marcus Morris (Oct. 27, 2015) as the most attempted field goals in a Pistons debut since Rip Hamilton (22 on Oct. 30, 2002). Fontecchio scored 247 points as a Piston in 2023-24, his most over any career 16-game span.

CAREER NIGHT: On March 9, 2024, against Dallas, Fontecchio posted a career-high 27 points with four rebounds, two assists and one steal in 32 minutes off the bench. It was his most points in any professional competition since scoring 30 for Team Italy against Serbia in the 2023 FIBA World Cup on Sept. 1, 2023.

IT'S IN HIS BLOOD: Fontecchio's mother, Mali Pomilio, played basketball for the Italian National Team from 1983-89 and won two European titles for AS Vicenza...His grandfather, Vittorio Pomilio, played for the Italian National Team from 1957-60...Fontecchio's father, Daniele, was a professional Italian hurdler who won silver in the 60 meter hurdles at the 1986 European Indoor Championships and in the 110 meter hurdles at the 1985 European Cup, along with 10 national championships at the Italian individual senior level.

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN: One of three active NBA players born in Italy (Reggie Jackson, Tristan Vukcevic [G League]) and just one of 12 Italian-born players in NBA history, Fontecchio is an active member of the Italian National Basketball team. In the 2023 FIBA World Cup, he led the team with 18.0 points and 28.9 minutes across seven games to go with 5.6 rebounds and 1.4 assists en route to a quarterfinals appearance. He led the Italians in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics as well with 19.3 points and 30.3 minutes with 3.0 rebounds, 1.5 assists and 1.5 steals across four games in another quarterfinals appearance.

DOWNTOWN DALLAS: Over the past five seasons (since 2019-20), Hardaway Jr. ranks 13th in the NBA in 3-pointers made, two spots behind teammate Malik Beasley in that span. He has made at least 200 3-pointers in four of those five seasons, all of which came as a member of the Mavericks, leaving him fourth on Dallas' all-time 3-pointers made list with 981. All four of his seasons with 200+ 3-pointers made in Dallas (2019-20, 2020-21, 2022-23, 2023-24) represent the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th-most triples made in a single season in Mavericks franchise history.

PLAYOFF EXPERIENCE: Hardaway Jr.'s run to the 2024 NBA Finals with Dallas was his fifth career playoff appearance and third with the Mavericks. His first two appearances were in back-to-back seasons with the Atlanta Hawks in 2015-17; he averaged just 9.7 minutes in Atlanta's second-round exit in 2016 and earned a starting role in 2017, where he posted 12.8 points in Atlanta's first-round loss. He returned to the postseason five years later with Dallas in 2019-20 and averaged a playoff career-high 17.8 points in six games. He then averaged 17.0 points in Dallas' first-round loss in 2020-21 with a playoff career-high 40.4% from deep. Dallas' 2023-24 playoff run was his second time advancing past the first round in five tries, and he shot 35.1% from deep for the Mavericks across 14 games.

FAMILY BUSINESS: Son of NBA Hall-of-Famer Tim Hardaway, the Hardaways are one of 105 father-son duos to play in the NBA (including fathers with multiple sons that have made the league). Both first-round draft picks, Tim Sr. was drafted 14th overall by Golden State out of UTEP in 1989 while Tim Jr. was taken 24th overall by New York out of Michigan in 2013. Tim Sr. went on to play 867 games over his 13-year HoF career and wore No. 10 with the Dallas Mavericks in 2001-02. Tim Jr. has played in 736 games across his 11-year career and also wore No. 10 with Dallas in 2023-24; both father and son played with NBA Hall of Famer Dirk Nowitzki during their time as a Maverick.

Tim Hardaway Jr. wore #10 for Dallas in 2023-24 and was teammates with Dirk Nowitzki in 2018-19

Tobias Harris is averaging a career-high 0.85 blocks per game. He has grabbed at least seven rebounds in 23-of-48 games, has a block in 29 and 10+ points in 33. He has scored 16+ points in four straight games with at least one steal in each of them.

PUT HIM IN AND WIN: Ranking second on the team in total plus/minus behind sixth man Malik Beasley, Harris has upped his efficiency during Detroit's recent stretch of winning. He ranked T-9th in the NBA with a +115 total plus/minus in January, the highest plus/minus in a month by a Piston since Andre Drummond's +132 in March 2019.

STEADY CONTRIBUTIONS: Harris scored a season-high 27 points on 6-of-9 from behind the arc against Boston (12/4), his second time nailing six 3-pointers this season (26 points on 6-of-9 3FG vs CHA, Nov. 21). He logged his third and fourth double-doubles of the season with 24 points and 10 rebounds vs. Charlotte (1/3) and 16 points with 11 boards vs. Minnesota (1/4). He made a 3-pointer in nine straight games from Dec. 28 - Jan. 13, averaging 14.6 PTS on 50.5% FG, 45.7% 3FG and 95.5% FT in that span.

Harris has blocked 41 shots so far, the third-most on the team and the second-most through his first 47 games of any career season.

IRON MAN: Harris appeared in and started 70 games for the 76ers last season, his third consecutive season with at least 70 games played and the eighth of his past nine campaigns. This included tying the NBA lead with 82 games played in 2016-17 and 2018-19. He only missed more than three games in a row once in that span, when he missed six straight contests early in the 2021-22 season. In that span he also started all 57 playoff games for Philadelphia and averaged 37.1 minutes per game. Over these past nine seasons (since 2015-16), Harris ranks third in the NBA in games played, games started and minutes played.

ALL-AROUND VETERAN: Harris played in his 900th career NBA game on Oct. 26, 2024 against Boston and became one of 18 players in NBA history with averages of 16.0 points and 6.0 rebounds on .360 3PT% or better. He is one of six active players to reach such benchmarks, joining James Harden, Kevin Durant, Jrue Holiday, Stephen Curry and Kevin Love. He recorded his 15,000th career point on Jan. 1 against Orlando and is one of six active players with 15,000 career points, 5,000 rebounds and 2,000 assists on 36.0% 3PT or better (Durant, Harden, Paul, George, Love).

AS A PISTON: Detroit first welcomed Harris as a Piston at the trade deadline in 2016, acquiring him from Orlando in exchange for Ersan Ilyasova and Brandon Jennings. He made an instant impact in Motor City, ranking second on the team in points and rebounds over the final 28 games of the 2015-16 season for Detroit after the trade. The team went 17-11 in that stretch to power themselves to a playoff appearance, where they fell in the first round to Cleveland. He then led Detroit with 1,321 total points (16.1 per game) across 82 games in 2016-17 and was traded to the L.A. Clippers in January of the 2017-18 season for Blake Griffin, who led Detroit in scoring en route to their most recent playoff appearance in 2018-19.

NOTABLE

As an 18-year-old last season, Ron Holland II led the G League Ignite in scoring and steals, turning in 16 20-point games with a season-high 32 vs. Stockton (12/1/23). He was the No. 2 overall recruit in the ESPN Class of 2023 and named the 2022-23 Gatorade Texas Player of the Year. He averaged 19.5 points, 6.7 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 2.4 steals across 29 games in the G League last season. He ranks 6th among rookies with a .458 FG%.

WELCOME TO THE NBA: Ron Holland had the biggest game of his rookie season on Dec. 12 against Boston, where he scored a career-high 26 points on 11-of-14 from the floor (also career-bests) with two 3-pointers, two free throws and three rebounds. It was his first time eclipsing 20 points and fifth time scoring in double-digits. He more than doubled his previous season high of five FGM, which he had done twice. Holland exploded for 20 points on 8-of-10 shooting in the fourth quarter alone, which included 10 straight points in two minutes in the final frame. It was the most points scored in a quarter by any Piston this season, the 3rd-most in a quarter off the bench in franchise history and the most in any quarter by a Detroit rookie since data became available in 1997-98.

DIALED UP DEFENSE: Holland racked up a career-high four steals on Feb. 2 against Chicago. After his three steals in the prior game against Dallas (1/31), Holland joined Ausar Thompson, Kentavious Caldwell-Pope and Greg Monroe as the only Pistons rookies with at least seven steals in a two-game span since Grant Hill in 1995.

IGNITING THE G: As the No. 2 overall recruit in the ESPN Class of 2023, Holland took his talents to the NBA G League Ignite for the 2023-24 season. He dropped 30 points four times with a season-high of 32 in a double-double against the Stockton Kings on Dec. 1 and added 16 other 20-point performances. He also collected multiple steals in 19 games with at least four steals in seven outings while racking up multiple blocks eight times. He added three double-doubles. Holland was selected to participate in the 2024 Panini Rising Stars event but did not play due to injury.

Holland is one of 13 players drafted from the Ignite since 2021 and one of 15 to sign an NBA contract; his teammates Matas Buzelis (11th to Chicago) and Tyler Smith (33rd to Milwaukee) were also drafted this season. He is the third-highest player to be drafted from the Ignite, behind Jalen Green (No. 2 to Houston in 2021) and Scoot Henderson (No. 3 to Portland in 2023).

Since being drafted 5th overall in 2022, Ivey leads the Pistons in games played and leads his draft class in career assists. Prior to his injury, he ranked second on the team in points (career-high) and assists per game and led the team with a career-high 0.9 steals per game.

FLAIR FOR THE DRAMATIC: Including his game-winning baseline running floater at the buzzer to defeat Toronto (11/26, pictured to the right), and his game-winning 4-point play vs Sacramento (12/26, far right) Ivey has been one of the best in the NBA at the end of quarters this season, and, at the time of his injury, ranked 3rd in the league in total field goals made in the final 10 seconds of any quarter this season (three came in Q4 or OT).

THIRD YEAR LEAP: Ivey has elevated his offensive game in campaign No. 3, averaging career highs in scoring and shooting numbers so far this season. He has shown an increase in offensive aggression, scoring in double-figures with at least 13 field goals attempted in 21-of-29 games this season and at least five 3-pointers attempted 16 times. His increase in opportunity has led to an increase in production, as he is averaging career-highs in points and shooting percentages while attempting more shots than either of his first two seasons (see table below).

ALL-TIME PRODUCTION: After scoring 10+ points in 69 of 74 games in 2022-23 and ending the year on a rookie franchise-record 39 game double-digit scoring streak, Ivey continued his efficient production into his sophomore season with 10+ points in 60 of 77 games played. Into NBA season No. 3, the former Purdue guard ranks as one of five players in franchise history to average at least 15.0 points, 4.0 assists and 3.0 rebounds through the first three seasons of their career (see table below). Ivey was named to the All-Rookie Second team in 2022-23 and was selected to compete in the NBA Rising Stars event at All-Star Weekend in each of the past two seasons.

Isaiah Stewart leads Detroit and ranks T-16th in the NBA with 56 blocks and ranked 8th in the NBA with 22 rejections in January. He is averaging a 1.24 blocks per game and ranks 3rd on Detroit with a 109.7 defensive rating.

DEFENSIVE-MINDED: Stewart recorded a block in nine straight games from Jan. 1 - 16, the second-longest streak of his career and one behind his career-best of 10 straight from April 22 - May 9, 2021. It is his longest streak this season after logging seven in a row from Oct. 30 - Nov. 11, 2024. He went on a tear from Nov. 21-25, tying his career-best with 10 blocks over that three-game span. He has been a disruptive force on the defensive end all season, ranking third on the team with opponents shooting just 44.2% against him as the primary defender. Stewart tied his career-high of five blocks against Orlando (11/23).

Stewart has been one of the best two-way players in the rim this season, ranking as one of 15 in the NBA to record at least 50 blocks and 85 offensive rebounds. Jalen Duren joins him on this list, and they are one of two groups of teammates in the NBA on this list. (Gafford, Likely, Davis, DAL).

Stewart has been one of the best defenders in the NBA as well, especially at the rim. He leads the league (minimum 100 field goals defended) with opponents shooting just 46.7% against him at the rim (see table to right):

SPARK PLUG: Seeing most of his action off the bench this season, Stewart ranks near the top of the NBA leaderboards in bench blocks and offensive rebounds this season. He leads Detroit's second unit with 6.0 rebounds per game and ranks 2nd with 20.2 minutes per game.

NOTABLE

Ausar Thompson led the Pistons with 68 steals and 59 blocks last season, joining Andre Drummond (5x, 2015-20) and Ben Wallace (6x, 2000-06) as the only players to lead the Pistons in both categories in a single season. He recorded a career-high six steals against Minnesota (1/4) and has totaled 34 (2.0 per game) over his last 17 outings. Thompson is T-3rd in the NBA with 32 steals since January 1st.

DEFENSIVE MENACE: Thompson leads the Pistons in steals per game and with a 108.3 defensive rating. He also ranks second the team with opponents shooting just 44.2% against him.

NBA HISTORY: Thompson did something no player has done before on Jan. 4 against Minnesota, when he became the first player in NBA history to record at least 10 points, 10 rebounds and six steals on 100% FG (5-for-5) in a game. It was a career-high mark in steals and his third career-double double. After tying his career high of five steals two games prior vs. ORL (1/1), Thompson totaled 13 steals across four games from 12/28 - 1/4, averaging 3.3 per game in that span.

STOCK MARKET: Thompson led the Pistons in steals (68) and blocks (59), becoming the first Piston to average 1.0 steals and 0.9 blocks per game since Andre Drummond, who did so in five consecutive seasons from 2015-20. He became just the fourth Detroit rookie to do so, joining Drummond (2012-13), Grant Hill (1994-95) and Terry Tyler (1978-79). Thompson was the third Piston to lead the team in both steals and blocks in a single season, joining Drummond (5x, 2015-20) and Ben Wallace (6x, 2000-06).

ALL-AROUND PRODUCTION: Despite his rookie season being cut short due to injury, Thompson put together one of the most well-rounded debut campaigns in NBA history. He played in every game up to being shut down for the season with averages of 8.8 points, 6.4 rebounds, 1.9 assists, 1.1 steals and 0.9 blocks on .483 FG%. As per the graphic on the right, he became one of 15 players in NBA history to record at least 550 points, 400 rebounds, 120 assists, 65 steals and 55 blocks through their first 63 career games, and he joined Victor Wembanyama and Ben Simmons as the only players to do so since 2000-01.

The full list of players includes Thompson, Wembanyama, Simmons, Nene, Kenyon Martin, Paul Pierce, Grant Hill, Chris Webber, Christian Laettner, Lionel Simmons, David Robinson, Michael Jordan, Terry Cummings, Charles Barkley, Marques Johnson and Alvan Adams.

J.B. Bickerstaff

Head Coach • 1st Season with the Pistons • 7th season as a Head Coach in the NBA

CAREER REGULAR SEASON RECORD (9TH SEASON): 279-316 (.469)

REGULAR SEASON RECORD WITH PISTONS (1ST SEASON): 25-25 (.500)

CAREER PLAYOFF RECORD (4 PLAYOFF APPEARANCES): 7-17 (.292)

J.B. Bickerstaff was named head coach of the Detroit Pistons on July 3, 2024.

"I am pleased to have J.B. joining our franchise and commend our front office team on leading an extensive search," said Pistons owner Tom Gores. "This is a pivotal time, and we need a leader who can immediately instill a culture of growth, development and inspiration. After spending time with J.B., it's clear he is a passionate teacher with a competitive spirit who knows what it takes to win in today's NBA."

Prior to joining the Pistons, Bickerstaff was the head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers from 2020-2024. Last season under Bickerstaff, the Cavaliers' defense ranked seventh in both points allowed (110.2) and defensive rating (112.1) during the regular season. During the 2022-23 season, Bickerstaff led the Cavaliers to the franchise's first 51-plus win season since 2016-17 and featured a defense that ranked first in the NBA in points allowed (106.9) and defensive rating (109.9), while being one of only three NBA teams to finish Top-10 in both offensive and defensive rating (Boston and Philadelphia). Before being promoted to head coach in Cleveland in February 2020, Bickerstaff was named associate head coach for the Cavaliers under John Beilein prior to the 2019-20 season.

Before his time in Cleveland, Bickerstaff served as the associate head coach for the Memphis Grizzlies under David Fizdale during the 2016-17 season. He took over as head coach for the Grizzlies from 2017 to 2019. Bickerstaff was tasked with transitioning the Grizzlies from the "Grit-and-Grind" era led by veterans Marc Gasol and Mike Conley to a new era led by Jaren Jackson Jr. In Bickerstaff's first full season as head coach (2018-19), the Grizzlies' defense improved year-over-year from 26th to ninth in defensive rating and from 13th to third in points per game.

Bickerstaff spent five seasons with the Houston Rockets as assistant coach from 2011 to 2015. He was named interim head coach of the Rockets during the 2015-16 season. Bickerstaff took over for Kevin McHale after 11 games of the 2015-16 season and finished the season 37-34 while qualifying for the NBA Playoffs. In four seasons with Bickerstaff as an assistant coach (2011-15), the Rockets amassed a 189-123 (.606) record while making three playoff appearances and one Western Conference Finals appearance.

Bickerstaff also spent four seasons (2007-11) as an assistant with the Minnesota Timberwolves under Randy Whitman (2007-09) and Kurt Rambis (2009-11). He began his coaching career with the Charlotte Bobcats (2004-07) as an assistant coach alongside his father, Bernie Bickerstaff, becoming the youngest assistant coach in the NBA at the age of 24.

Bickerstaff served as director of operations for the University of Minnesota's men's basketball program, overseeing all administrative areas of the program and assisting the coaching staff with recruiting, scouting and coaching. He played two collegiate seasons (1999-2001) with the Golden Gophers and two years at Oregon State University, where he was the youngest Division I player as a 17-year-old freshman.

A native of Denver, CO, Bickerstaff and his wife Nikki have three children: Blair, Blakely and Blade.
