TRENDBUSTING

The Rockets went 41-41 last season but still needed certain things to go in their favor in order to win most of the time. That hasn't been the case so far this season as Houston has won more games under conditions that were generally "death sentences" in recent seasons:

RUN IT BACK

Of the 17 Rockets who appeared in a game last season, 13 are on the current roster, accounting for 97.9% of the team's scoring from 2023-24. Steven Adams did not play last season.

GREED IS GOOD

The Rockets are averaging 13.9 turnovers this season. Houston averaged a franchise-low 12.7 tpg last season after giving up the most turnovers of any team over the previous three seasons combined (15.9 per).

FIND A WAY

HORSESHOES & HAND GRENADES

Houston trailed by a point with 21.2 seconds left in their loss to Portland on 11/23. The Rockets shot 35.6% from the floor, were outrebounded by 10 and had 10 fewer 3-pointers made. Had Houston completed the comeback, it would have been the first time in NBA history that a team won a game in which it shot below 40.0% and was outrebounded by double-digits while its opponent recorded 10+ more 3FGM.

The Rockets lost in overtime to Golden State on 11/2 despite trailing by as many as 31 points in the first half and Houston briefly held a one-point lead during the fourth quarter. That would have been the largest comeback win in franchise history (25 points vs. San Antonio on 12/16/19).
